

MIKE PEREIRA

Mike Pereira is currently Director of Real Estate and the David Johnston Research + Technology Park at the University of Waterloo, overseeing the University's strategic growth, development and community management with regards to real estate assets, land use planning and economic development.

Mike is the past Vice President of the Canadian Association of University Research Parks, and past Chair of the City of Waterloo's Economic Development Advisory Committee.

He also collaborates with numerous community organizations, including The Essentials Fund, Women's Crisis Services of Waterloo Region, and Social Venture Partners.

He holds a MA from Brock University, and a Masters in Economic Development and Innovation from the University of Waterloo.

